It was commented that Corroure's plan to cull 350 hinds seemed a lot and there were concerns that hinds would be drawn in from the neighbouring Estates. It was pointed out that overall, within the group high numbers of deer have been shot before without affecting the overall population of the group. Corroure are intending on reducing their culls over the coming years.

8. Deer Count 2012/13

There are no plans for a helicopter count of the whole area this coming year and SNH indicated that it would be a few years before a helicopter count was carried out again. Ian Hope said that SNH are intending to carry out a helicopter deer count of the Ben Nevis and Ben Alder SAC in summer 2013. It was clarified that SNH will also cover the buffer areas to the SACs though this will be limited to what one helicopter can cover per day on each SAC.

George Loudon asked if there are any plans by SNH to carry out habitat monitoring as this gives a better understanding of the impacts of deer on the ground rather than counting actual populations of deer. Ian Hope said that habitat monitoring is more costly than helicopter counts but said that repeat surveys will be carried out on the SACs within the next year or two.

Finlay Clark commented that there is already noticeable habitat change with the ever increasing coverage of bracken. This will become less manageable as it takes greater hold over the coming years and may reach the point of non-recovery if action is not taken on how it can be managed.

9. MWAHE Deer Management Plan

It was agreed that the sub-group would meet during the second week of December to discuss the Deer Management Plan detail. Lyndsay Sharp will discuss population models with Ian Hope for the group in advance of the December meeting.

10. Ben Nevis SAC and Ben Alder SAC

Ian Hope welcomed the group's adaptive approach to deer management planning and acknowledged that deer management measures had been implemented with the intention of improving habitat condition in the the SACs. The management of deer in the SAC areas is integral within the draft Deer Management Plan.

The Ben Alder Group was to meet following the helicopter count scheduled for the summer. As this never went ahead the group are still to meet. This is planned for after the summer deer count in 2013.

11. SNH Report

The WANE Act, together with SNH's balancing duties and the Code of Practice, mean that SNH has to take account of socio-economic interests. For example this means that the socio-economic importance of deer has to be taken into account before SNH can issue an authorisation for deer control.

12. Reports from ADMG

Finlay Clark added that the WANE Act also place more emphasis on Deer Management Groups to consider economics and sustainability.

The next regional meeting will be held at the Kingsmill hotel in Inverness on 27th November. The ADMG managed Scone Gamefair for one day at before it was cancelled. The Executive members were in attendance at Moy Gamefair.

Paul Wheelhouse is the new minister with the responsibilities for the Environment and Climate Change. It has been discussed that the ADMG should invite him out to a day stalking to ensure he has an understanding of the industry.

Finlay Clark thanked the Mid-west group for their support over the years. In return Hamish McCorquodale thanked Finlay Clark for his support and representation on the ADMG committee.

13. Cairngorm National Park Authority – Deer Advisory Group

Patrick Thompson provided an update. The outcome from various meetings has resulted in the approval of an access poster in relation to stalking. This has been approved for use within the National Park. A copy of the poster will be distributed with the minutes.

14. Venison Market

The Estates in Rannoch have managed to negotiate an enhanced price for their venison with Highland Game. This is an ungraded price which remains constant through out the season. Everyone requires a chiller but does not have to be assured.

Andrew Feilden asked what would be involved in doing our own butchery and direct sales. Philip Dean said it requires a big marketing and set up cost, plus there is a threshold of 300 carcasses for a requirement of veterinary inspections. This adds further costs.

15. Date of Next Meeting

The next meeting will be Monday 21 October 2012 at Strathmashie.

16. Election of Office Bearers

Hamish McCorquodale asked if anyone wants to stand for position of Chair or Secretary. Everyone is happy with current arrangement and the office bearers will continue for a further year.

Patrick Thompson was thanked for hosting the meeting.

17. AOCB

There was no further business to be discussed.
